

PEDIGREE OF WINGFIELD OF WINGFIELD, LETHERINGHAM, EASTON, &c.

NOTES.

1. Witness to a deed sans date of the Needhams.
2. Lord of Wingfield.
3. Lord of Wingfield and Dennington.
4. The Family of Peche held lands at Bricket, Drinkstone, Stowlangtoft, and Great Thurlow.
5. Married Stephen Brockdish, Sir John and Sir Thomas W. becoming Trustees for two daughters, coh.
6. Lord of Letheringham, Jure Uxoris.*
7. Of Letheringham, Hoo, Dallinghoo.*

* Among the Arms of the Benefactors, on the north side of the Steeple over the Quire of Norwich Cathedral are those of Wingfield, impaling Boville, B 4-5.

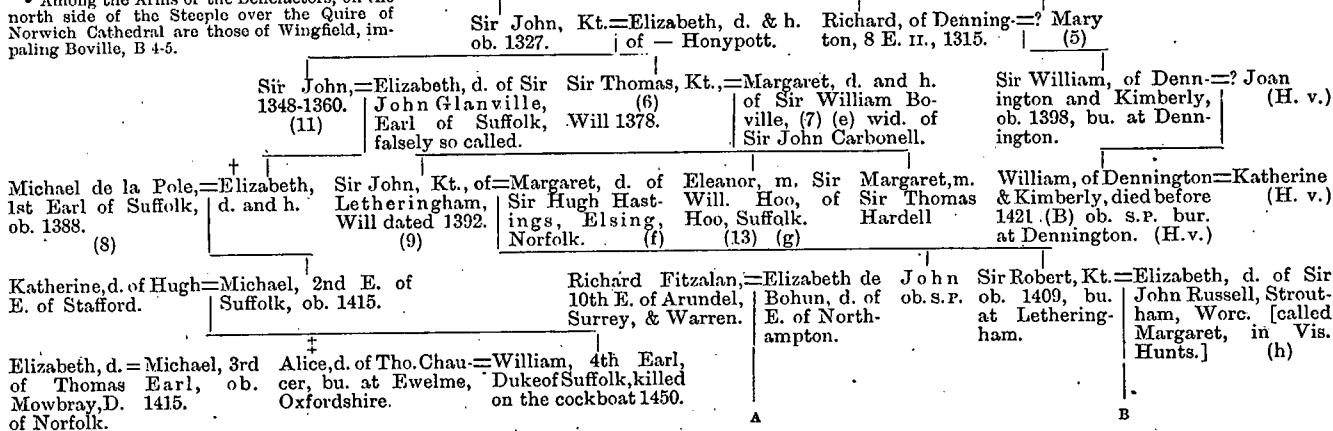

NOTES—Continued.

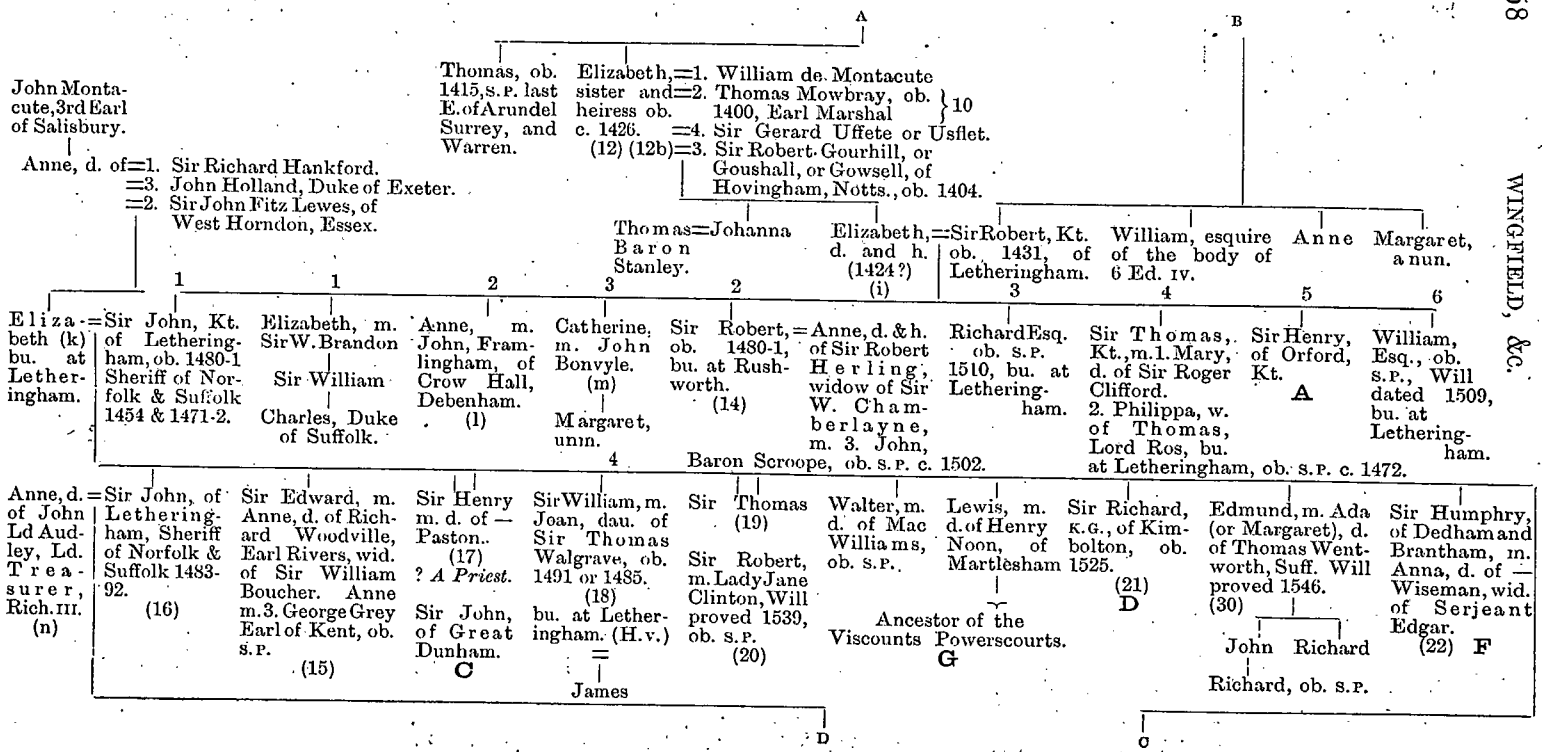

The Family of Boville held the Manor of Letheringham from the time of Henry II. through a marriage with one of the heiresses of the de Glanvilles, Lords of Alderton, Dallinghoo, Badingham, Dennington, Thorpe, and Creeting. In the 21 Edw. III., the Manor was held in trust for the heiress Margery, who m. 1. Sir John Carbonell; and 2. Thomas, 2nd son of Sir John Wingfield, whose descendants were possessed of the Manor until the time of William III.

WINGFIELD OF WINGFIELD, &c.

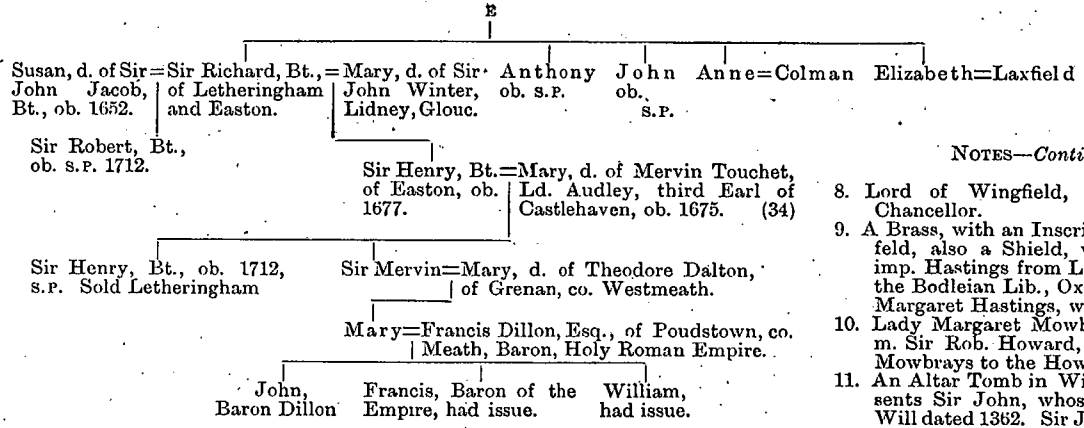

+ Called Katherine by some authorities. † It is not certain that T. C. was a son of the poet.

WINGFIELD OF WINGFIELD, &c.

8. Lord of Wingfield, Jure Uxoris, some time Chancellor.
9. A Brass, with an Inscription to Sir John de Wyngfeld, also a Shield, with the Arms of Winfield, imp. Hastings from Letheringham, is preserved in the Bodleian Lib., Oxford, dated 1389. His wife, Margaret Hastings, was buried at Letheringham.
10. Lady Margaret Mowbray, issue of this marriage, m. Sir Rob. Howard, bringing the honours of the Mowbrays to the Howards.
11. An Altar Tomb in Wingfield Ch. probably represents Sir John, whose d. m. Michael de la Pole. Will dated 1362. Sir John and Sir Thomas, owning the Manor of Brockdish, claimed the advowson. Their Arms still remains (or did lately) in the windows of the Church.
12. "An ancient fair Tomb, very foully defaced," shews that Elizabeth Arundel, Duchess of Norfolk, was buried at Letheringham. Weever's statement must be corrected, as Monument to this lady and her third husband, Sir Robert Gowsall, exists at Hoveringham. Blomfield is also in error as to the date of the marriage of the Duchess to Sir Robert Gowsall, who died the 20 July, 1404 (East Anglian N. & Q., ii., 104 and 114). This Elizabeth probably m. Sir R. Gowshall not later than 1411 (B 1. 219).
13. Thomas de Hoo was Collector of the Revenues of Thomas de Brotherton, E. of Norfolk. His eldest son m. Eleanor Wingfield.
14. Sir Robert was Comptroller of the Household to Ed. iv. In 1474 Sir Robert and his wife, heiress of Sir Robert Herling, settled East Harling and numerous Manors on themselves, Sir John Wingfield and others being Trustees. Sir Robert died, seized of the Manor of Mortimer in Stanford in right of his wife, and it remained in the family until temp. Edw. vi., when Sir Anthony W. conveyed it with land in West Tofts, Buckenham Parva and Sturston, to Nicholas Bacon.
15. Little seems certain of this Sir Edward, except that he m. Anne, d. of Ld. Rivers. Burke Ext. Peerage, states that Anne m. for her third husband, Sir Anthony Wingfield. Hunts. Vis. states Sir Edward to have been the second husband.
16. In first Richard III. was attainted of High Treason as John Wyngfeld, of London, Esqeer, for being in arms against Richard. His life was saved, and he probably took part in the battle of Bosworth on the side of Henry vii., when he was knighted. In 1 Henry vii. he was restored in blood as "John Wyngfeld, Knight." 19 Henry vii. he was First Commissioner for levying aid in the C. of Suffolk, on the knighting of the King's eldest son.

NOTES—Continued from p. 60.

17. The Pedigrees follow the Vis. of Huntingdonshire. But the Visitation of Suffolk 1561, states that this Henry was a Priest. Blomefield, History of Norfolk, states that Henry was presented to the rectory of Baconsthorpe, Norf., by John and Robert Wingfield, Kt., in 1480. Blore History of Rutland, follows Blomfield, adding that Henry also held the living of Rendlesham, Suff. His fingers were crooked, but the Pope gave him dispensation to take all orders.
  18. Sir William held the office of Sewer to King Henry vii.
  19. Sir Thomas, said to have been killed at the Battle of Bosworth Field. Hunts. Vis., tenth son.
  20. Sir Robert was the godson of Sir Robert W., of Rushworth, and was brought up by his aunt, Lady Scrope. He held many offices of distinction, for the most part in foreign parts, under King Henry viii. He was buried at Calais. Hunts. Vis., eleventh son.
  21. Some Pedigrees place Sir Richard as eleventh son, and Edmund as tenth son. Hunts. Vis., seventh son.
  22. Sir Humphrey was Sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk 1520, Speaker of the House of Commons 24 Henry viii. (1532), had a Grant from the King 29 Henry viii. of the Manors of Overhall and Netherhall, in Dedham, and of the Manor of Creppinghall, in Stutton, Suff. Hunts. Vis., sixth son.
  23. Sir Anthony, Knight of the Garter, Vice-Chamberlain to Henry viii., and one of the Executors of the King's Will. He was also a member of the Privy Councils of Henry viii. and Edward vi.
  24. Elizabeth, d. of Sir George de Vere, third son of John, 12th Earl of Oxford. On the death of the 13th Earl, his son became the 14th Earl; but dying without issue his three sisters became co-heiresses.
  - 12b. The Hunts. Visitation does not mention the marriage of Elizabeth with William de Montacute and Sir Gerard Uffete.
  25. Of the Privies Chamber of Q. Elizabeth.
  26. Gentleman Usher to Q. Elizabeth.
  27. The Priory of Letheringham was first granted to Sir Anthony Wingfield, the Patron, and 28 Eliz., to his daughter, Elizabeth Naunton.
  28. Sir Henry sold Letheringham and followed the fortunes of King James ii.
  29. Burke.
  30. John, son of Edmund, is described as of Totyshall, the Castle of which was held by the Duke of Suffolk. His Will was proved 1546, from which it would seem that he was a gentleman retainer in the family of his kinsman, the Duke of Suffolk, Charles Brandon, whose two infant sons were probably under the care of this John W.
  31. Letheringham Monument to "Sir Anthony Wingfield, Kt., gr.-child of Sir Anthony W., Kt., whoe in ye dayes of King Henry viii. was made Kt. of the Garter. He died 29 Dec., 1605.
  32. Another Tablet to Sir Thomas Wingfield, late of Letheringham, Kt., son of Sir Robert W., Kt., who died Jan., 1609, being High Sheriffe of this County.
  33. Easton, a female in a large ruff, flowered petticoat, "for Radcliffe Wingfield, wife of Thomas W., of Easton, Esq., died 1601."
  34. The chancel Monument erected to memory of Dame Mary Wingfield, late wife of Sir Henry W., Bt., daughter of the Hon. Mervin Touchet, ob. 1675. Arms, Wingfield quartering Bovile, imp. Touchet.
  35. Mildenhall Brass for Mary, late wife of Henry Warner, Esq., and d. of Sir Robert W., of Letheringham, died 1601.

Blomefield, Manor of Hackford Hall, West Herling, states that Margaret, widow, of Sir George Seckford, settled the Manor so that on her death it came to George Seckford, Esq., who settled it on Trust for Alice, his wife, who was the daughter of Tho. Roke, of Riddlesworth, as I, (i.e. Blomefield,) take it. George Seckford died 1450, and Alice, his widow, mar. Sir Henry Wingfield. In 1476 Sir Henry and his wife released the Manor to Thomas Seckford, who settled it in trust for Margaret, his first wife. He died 1507, leaving Thomas Seckford, of Great Bealings, his heir, who mar. Margaret, d. of Sir John Wingfield, of Letheringham. Is it possible that Alice and Elizabeth Wingfield may be one and the same person?

THE FOLLOWING NOTE ON

WINGFIELD HOUSE, IPSWICH,

the site of the present "Tankard" Tavern, is contributed by

H. R. EYRE.

1619, April 10th. "Thomas Wingfield and Dame Alice, his wife, sold their house, called Newton's Lodgings, or Wingfield House, with all its cellars, stables, &c., situated in Tacket Street, Ipswich, to Sir Clipsey Grandy and Dame Martha, his wife."

It continued in their possession until June 8th, 1625, when Dame Grandy, widow of Sir Clipsey, sold it to a Mr. Coote Wade.

This gentleman only retained it till 1626. In that year selling it to Mr. Edmond Jenny, of Bredfield, Suffolk, who, dying in 1659, willed it to his son Arthur. This Arthur, in 1664, left his property to his eldest son Edmond.

The house was then occupied by Mr. Thomas Newton, and assessed at £10. In 1674 Dr. Ludkin lived there.

In 1736, Henry Betts, a merchant and brewer, purchased the house of Edmond Jenny, it being then in the occupation of Benjamin Cocker.

In 1738 Betts converted the mansion into a tavern, calling it "The Tankard." The first host was Daniel Smith.

The eldest son of Betts now possessed the property; he dying in 1784 left all his property to his niece, Mary Mann.

In 1787 she sold out to Thomas Slapp, of Botesdale, from whom it was purchased by Joshua Head, brewer, from whom it passed to Mr. J. Cobbold.

In 1843 the old "Tankard" was partly rebuilt, and called the "Theatre" Tavern. About 1876 it was re-named again the "Tankard."

The last remaining part of Wingfield House, used as a hay loft, &c., was destroyed by fire, July 27, 1878.
