The earthwork, which is now largely ploughed out, consists of a double vallum and intermediate fosse and is 275m north-west—south-east by 206m north-east—south-west. On the projected line of the south-west side of the earthwork a v-sectioned feature, 7.50m long, 6.30m wide, 3.50m deep, was discovered which may be a segment of the ditch (possibly unfinished?). The top layers of this feature contained a large amount of charcoal and burnt daub. The pottery from it included Belgic-style pots, including fine ware butt beakers, a terra rubra platter, an amphora sherd as well as more native coarse wares. Three 1st-century A.D. bronze fibulae were also recovered. An isolated human skull, lacking the lower jaw, was found in the primary silts of it. Running parallel with this feature, on its inner side, were 3 small slots, only c. 10cm. wide 10-15 cm. deep. The first was 2m from the edge of the ditch-like feature, the second 1m from the first and the third 2.50m from the second. The remainder of the site produced a series of very slight post-holes and slots and an area of cobbling which dipped into a feature of unknown extent, approximately 0.8m deep, containing an abundance of Roman brick, tile and opus signinum. (E. A. Martin, S.A.U.).

The site is part of a complex of earthworks (since ploughed out) discovered by aerial photography and interpreted as a deserted hamlet. An area of 900 sq. m. was stripped and revealed a cobbled yard and a series of drainage and boundary ditches. On one side of the yard were the remains of 3 buildings, one of clay lump with a hearth, and 2 of sleeper-beam construction. The date-range of the settlement was 13th-15th-century. (R. D. Carr for S.A.U.).

Ipswich (TM/16524431), Lower Brook Street. MS. LS. Md. An area of 450 sq. m. was excavated in advance of redevelopment. Over 100 burials were uncovered belonging to the chapel of St. Edmund de Pountenay, (mid-13th to mid-15th century). The medieval cemetery overlay backyard areas of the Saxon town, and several middle and late Saxon pits, part of an insubstantial late Saxon cellared building, and a late Saxon timber-lined well were revealed. Material from middle Saxon pits included glass and imported Badorf-type ware. A Merovingian sherd and a bronze linked pin of early 7th-century date were also recovered. Sieving retrieved samples of seeds and fish bones from all periods. (S.A.U.).

Ipswich (TM/16784456), 24 St. Helens Street. MS. LS. Limited excavation during redevelopment revealed a late Saxon kiln producing Thetford-type ware. The oven pit, 1.60 x 1.70m, was sub-rectangular, with a single flue and no kiln furniture. The kiln walls survived to a height of 80 cm. Fragments of kiln wall and other debris lay on top of the final load, consisting of over 30 pots. The kiln was cut into a middle Saxon pit, and two Ipswich ware wasters occurred elsewhere on the site. The excavation extends the known area of Saxon kiln activity eastwards beyond the defences of the Saxon town. (K. Wade, S.A.U.).

Ipswich (TM/16414380), Vernon Street, Stoke. MS. Md. 2 trial area excavations were carried out on waste ground south of the Orwell. The northern area contained 19th-century features associated with terraced housing overlying a medieval sand extraction pit. Excavation of the southern area (which continues) revealed a large middle Saxon ditch, 4m. wide and 2m. deep, containing large quantities of Ipswich ware and animal bones. (K. Wade, S.A.U.).

Ipswich (TM/15914452), Elm Street. LS. Md. An area of 300 sq. m. and 3 trenches were excavated in advance of redevelopment. The site lay across the supposed line of the medieval town defences. A series of at least 3 phases of Saxo-Norman activity was revealed. The first phase consisted of a north-south ditch, 7m. wide x 2m. deep, interpreted as a late Saxon town defence. The ditch contained human skeletal material in the upper layers, and traces of a revetment survived along the inner lip. Cut through the final filling of the ditch was a cellared building with a stepped entrance down to the lower floor. After its abandonment, the backfilled cellar was in turn cut by Saxon-Norman rubbish pits. Immediately west of this complex, a shallow north-south ditch, probably uncompleted, was uncovered, possibly dating from the 12th century. At the western extremity of the site, contractors' excavations revealed a third north-south ditch, up to 5m. deep, believed to represent the documented medieval town defence of 1204. Meagre traces of other medieval activity were revealed, chiefly at the southern end of the site. (K. Wade, S.A.U.).

Ipswich (TM/17914586), 41 Kingsgate Drive. Md. 'Boy-Bishop' St. Nicholas token. Obv. Head of Bishop. Rev. Sterling penny type. Found in donor's garden. (S. A. Strutt.) (I.M. 1975-22).

Ipswich (TM/16444457), 44 Buttermarket. PM. 3 17th-century pipe bowls found during alterations to shop. (A. T. Alderton.) (I.M. 1975-577).

Ubbeston St. Peter (TM/32327257). Md. An isolated church which has been made redundant on pastoral grounds is to be converted into a private dwelling. The tower is brick and dates to the 16th century. The nave and chancel are of flint. The nave has a 12th-century south door and some pitched coursing. The roof, probably 14th-century, is of the arch-braced collar type. The survey further revealed a blocked north door, 3 windows high in the north wall and 2 in the south, all Romanesque and presumably 12th-century. 2 12th-century voussiors are re-used in a Perp. chancel arch. The chancel, once apsidal, was squared off sometime in the late medieval period. There are over 50 churches in the county with under 100 parishioners. All of these must be considered as possibilities for redundancy, and in the light of this one of the aims of the survey at Ubbeston was to assess the time and cost of recording a small and simple building. (R. D. Carr for S.A.U.).

Walsham-le-Willows (TL/996702). AS. 6th-century square-headed brooch, 5.2 cm. long, found on Church Farm. (R. Martineau and A. Simpson) (M.H. 1975-1).

RULES OF THE SUFFOLK INSTITUTE OF ARCHÆOLOGY

1. The Society shall be called the "Suffolk Institute of Archaeology".
2. The objects of the Institute shall be:—
  - a. To collect and publish information on the Archaeology and History of the County of Suffolk.
  - b. To oppose and prevent; as far as may be practicable, any injuries with which ancient monuments of every description within the County of Suffolk may from time to time be threatened and to collect accurate drawings, plans and descriptions thereof.
  - c. To promote interest in local Archaeological and Historical matters.
3. The Institute shall consist of Ordinary, Associate and Honorary Members.
4. Each Ordinary Member, after 1st January, 1977, shall pay an annual subscription of £3.25, or of £3 if paid by Banker's Order, due in advance on 1st January. A husband and wife, one of whom shall be an Associate Member, shall pay an annual subscription of £3.50 or of £3.25 if paid by Banker's Order, due in advance on 1st January. A subscription of £35 shall secure Life Membership. Every Member shall be considered to belong to the Institute until he withdraws from it by notice to the Secretary in writing or is more than twelve months in arrear with his subscription, in which case he shall be deemed to have resigned. Anyone having been nominated is eligible for election at any Meeting (General or otherwise) of the Institute or at any Meeting of the Council.
5. Each Member shall be entitled to free admission to the General Meetings of the Institute; he shall also be entitled to receive a copy of the Proceedings of the Institute. Members shall be entitled to attend Excursions and to bring not more than two friends, on payment of whatever fees may be decided by the Council from time to time.
6. Honorary Members shall pay no subscription and shall not be entitled to vote but they shall receive a copy of the Proceedings of the Institute and shall be entitled to all other privileges of membership. Honorary Members shall be elected at the Annual General Meeting only. Associate Members shall not be entitled to vote nor to receive a free copy of the Proceedings.
7. The Officers of the Institute shall be a President, Vice-Presidents, a General Secretary, a Financial Secretary, such additional Secretaries as may from time to time be required, and an Editor, who shall, if necessary be assisted by an Editorial Committee. The Officers shall be elected at the Annual General Meeting to serve for the ensuing year. Nominations of new candidates for office must reach the General Secretary at least two weeks before the date of the Annual General Meeting.
8. There shall be an Auditor, elected at the Annual General Meeting to serve for the ensuing year.

9. The general management of the affairs and property of the Institute shall be vested in the Council, consisting of the Officers and of fifteen Members elected from the general body of the Subscribers, to retire annually but eligible for re-election; with this exception, that no elected member of Council who has been absent from all Council Meetings during the preceding year shall be eligible for re-election at the next Annual General Meeting, with the proviso that the Council may waive this where special circumstances have prevented a Member's attendance.

10. The Council shall meet to transact the ordinary business of the Institute. They shall have power to appoint Committees and Local Secretaries, recommend Hon. Members for election at the Annual General Meeting, supply vacancies which may occur during the year in their own body or among the Officers and to make arrangements for excursions and other Meetings. They shall also annually prepare a report and a statement of accounts for submission to the Annual General Meeting. At the Meetings of the Council four Members shall be a quorum.

11. The Annual General Meeting shall be held if possible before the end of April.

12. A Special General Meeting, apart from and in addition to the Annual General Meeting, may be called at any time on the demand of the Patron or of the President or of the Council or of not less than five Ordinary Members of the Institute, who shall signify their demand to the Secretary in writing. At least one week's notice of such Meeting shall be given to all Members of the Institute, together with a statement of the proposed agenda.

13. At all Meetings, both of the Institute and of the Council, and of any Committee thereof, the Chairman shall have a casting vote in addition to his own vote.

14. All papers presented to the Institute shall thereby be considered its property and the Editors may publish the same in any way and at any time they may think proper.

15. Should any dispute or difference arise concerning the interpretation of the foregoing rules the decision of the Chairman for the time being shall be final.

16. No alteration shall be made in these rules by way of addition, omission or otherwise except at a General Meeting and after at least one week's previous notice of such proposed alteration has been sent to every Member of the Institute.

REPORT FOR 1975

Membership.—During the year 60 members were elected but deaths and resignations led to a drop in membership of 6.

At the end of the year membership was:

Ordinary members	417
Associate members	137
Life members	27
Honorary members	2
Libraries and Institutions	68
	651

Excursions.—The following excursions were held:

April	30	Lavenham Guildhall, where the annual general meeting was followed by a talk about the history and buildings of Lavenham, given by Mr. D. P. Dymond, M.A., F.S.A., University of Cambridge, Extra-Mural Tutor for Suffolk. The Church, Guildhall, Little Hall and other buildings were visited.
May	28	Caister-on-Sea Roman town. Burgh Castle Saxon Shore Fort. Herringfleet, St. Olave's Priory.
June	25	Dalham Church, Hall and village. Gazeley Church. Denham Church and castle earthworks.
July	5	Hoo Church. Letheringham Church, Priory site and Old Hall. Easton Farm Park.
August	13	Ipswich, Christchurch Mansion, St. Margaret's Church, Unitarian Meeting House, the Suffolk Archaeological Unit's excavation off Lower Brook Street.

Lectures.—The following lectures were delivered:

November	15	At Bury St. Edmunds: 'Archaeology and History in the East Anglian Landscape', by Mr. D. P. Dymond, University of Cambridge Extra-Mural Tutor for Suffolk.
December	6	At Ipswich: 'Colchester—Fortress to Borough', by Mr. P. Crummy, Director of the Colchester Archaeological Unit.

Finance.—The published accounts show that in 1975 expenditure exceeded income by £140, but when income tax on covenants and our investment is repaid, a small surplus will result. Income from all sources now barely meets expenses, and if the present standard of the Proceedings, and excursions, is to be maintained—in the face of certain increases in the costs of printing and postage—then subscriptions must inevitably be raised.

Proceedings.—This issue will be the last in the present size, which has served the Institute since it was founded but which in recent years has been found too small to meet modern standards of archaeological publication. To facilitate the reproduction of archaeological and other illustrations to a better scale the editorial committee has recommended and the council has approved the adoption of the quarto-size format. The change will result in a small saving of cost and will bring our journal into line with most other national and local archaeological journals in this country.
