

CHURCH PLATE IN SUFFOLK.

DEANERY OF BLACKBURNE.

THE Communion Plate of this Deanery includes a considerable number of pieces of some importance, from their connection with the owners of property in the district; but as regards form and ornament, there is nothing special to record, and the plate-marks are of no unusual variety. There are eleven Elizabethan Cups, and one paten. The Hopton Cup is a good specimen, and must have belonged, at one time, to Hardingham, in Norfolk. Five parishes have plate with armorial bearings; and four others have donors' names, without arms. There is one Norwich piece. The copper-gilt service at Euston is a fine show set, of some historical interest; and the silver at Bardwell, and Thorpe-by-Ixworth worthily represents the families of Read and Crofts.

EUSTON. Original dedication, S. GENEVIEVE.

CUP: inscription underneath: Presented to Euston Church by George Henry, Duke of Grafton, 1833.

Height 8 inches; diameter of bowl  $3\frac{3}{4}$  inches.

Marks: leopard's head not crowned; lion passant; I.H.S. in rays on the bowl; small Roman r in cornered shield for 1832; head of Victoria. Maker's mark R. H. in square.

PATEN: with a foot; I.H.S. in the centre. Diameter  $5\frac{1}{2}$  inches.

Marks: the same, except that the date letter is n, for 1828. The same inscription underneath.

ALMS DISH: diameter  $9\frac{1}{2}$  inches. I.H.S. in the centre.

Marks: the same except that the letter is e for 1820; and the maker's mark is R.S in script hand, in square. The same inscription.

FLAGON: tankard shaped. Height  $9\frac{1}{2}$  inches. I.H.S. on front.

Marks: as on the cup: the same inscription underneath.

The donor of this set was 4th Duke of Grafton, K.G., born 14 Jan. 1760; died 28 Sept. 1844.

There is also here a magnificent set of copper-gilt Communion Plate: viz.,—

A Pair of CUPS with COVERS: Height  $9\frac{1}{4}$  inches; diameter of bowls  $5\frac{1}{4}$  inches. The bowls are half-spheres, the stems have a straight boss, and the bases are hexagon in form, spreading to  $6\frac{1}{2}$  inches in diameter. The covers are flat, with a knob of foliage. On the bowls, the covers, and the feet, is a plain shield, surrounded by the Garter of the Order, with its motto, and surmounted by an Earl's coronet, viz.:—Gules, a bezant between three demi lions rampant, coupé, Argent. Bennet: impaling, Quarterly, 1st & 4th. Or. a lion rampant, Gules, crowned Azure. Diets: 2nd & 3rd Azure, semée of billets, a lion rampant, Or. Nassau.

PATEN: with a foot. Diameter 1 foot 1 inch. Height 4 inches. The same arms in centre.

ALMS DISH: diameter 1 foot  $9\frac{1}{2}$  inches. The same arms in centre.

FLAGONS: a pair tankard shaped. Height 10 inches. The same arms on the sides and on the lids.

There are no marks on any of these pieces, being copper. The armorial bearings on this fine set, which is better suited for ornament than use, are those of Sir Henry Bennet, second son of Sir John Bennet, K<sup>nt</sup> of Dawley, co. Middlesex, by Dorothy, daughter of Sir John Crofts, K<sup>nt</sup> of Saxham, co. Suffolk; and brother of the first Baron Ossulton. He was raised to the Peerage, and created Baron Arlington 14. March, 1664; and Viscount Thetford, and Earl Arlington, 22. April, 1672, having become Knight of the Garter, 15. June, 1672. He purchased the Euston estate from the family of Fielding. He married Isabella, daughter of Lewis de Nassau, Lord of Auverquerque, Holland, and Count of Nassau. He died s.p.m. 28 July, 1685, aged 67, and was buried at Euston.* Their only daughter and heiress Isabella married (at the age of 4 years) 1 August, 1672, Henry Fitzroy, illegitimate son of King Charles II., 1st Duke of Grafton (at the age of 9 years).† The Plate must therefore have been presented after 1672, and perhaps by the Earl before his death in 1685; or by his daughter, the Duchess of Grafton, who married a second husband, Sir Thomas Haumer, 3rd Bart. in 1698, and died 7. Feb. 1723, in her 56th year. The engraver of the arms has erroneously reversed her mother's coat. The impalement should be Nassau quartering Diets, and not Diets quartering Nassau.
