MUSTER ROLLS OF TERRITORIALS
IN TUDOR TIMES.

THE HALF HUNDRED OF LOTHINGLAND.

The original document from which the following lists have been transcribed is at the Public Record Office and is referred to as Domestic State Papers—Elizabeth, vol. 167, 25.

In the 1583 list beginning at Gorlston, ending at Hopton, we have the names of all males between 16 and 60. As to offensive weapons, the Bowes are much more plentiful than the Calver and it is curious that only two of the men with Calivers are said to have "flax and tuch box." I have used the ordinary contractions for the Christian names as given in former lists. The list dated 1584 which refers only to the town of Lowestoft and Gunton gives several names to whom the adjective "senex" is given, and some of the female sex are mentioned as furnishing some kind of armour or weapons.

E. Powell.

Nov., 1925.
The Book of the Musters taken from the halfe hundred of Lothingland the xvijth day of Janewarye anno 1583, (endorsed) the names of all within the yland between 60 and 16.
