MUSTER ROLLS OF TERRITORIALS
IN TUDOR TIMES.

BLACKBOURNE HUNDRED.

In the document here transcribed it seems we may have a list of all the males in each parish who were over 16 years of age. The limits of age for military service in these times were 16 and 60, but we find in some of these lists, as at Hinderclay and other places, the ages of men over 60 are noted against their names which looks as if the instructions were to include the older men.

What surprises me most in the return is the very short supply of offensive weapons, for in a total of nearly a thousand able men only 35 bows and 69 callivers are given. The proportion of able men to the total number of men in each parish, is curious, and seems to vary from 20 to 20 at West Stow, to 5 to 24 at Troston. As to the letters before the names I have not found any definite statement beyond that given in Vol. XV., p. 133, but here the double letter denotes ability. The contractions for Christian names are same as used in the former lists.

The following return is from Harleian M.S. No. 366, fol. 50–72 at the British Museum. It appears to refer to the year 1584.

[Note.—The names in brackets have been made in a later hand over the names marked * which preceded them and which have had pen put through them].
