Once again this is a selection of the new sites and finds discovered during the year. All the sites on this list have been incorporated into the County’s Sites and Monuments Index; the reference to this is the final number given in each entry, preceded by the abbreviation S.A.U. Information for this list has been contributed by Miss E. Owles, Moyses Hall Museum; Mr C. Pendleton, Mildenhall Museum; Mr A. Pye, Lowestoft Archaeological Society; and Mr D. Sherlock. The drawings of the axes from Covehithe were kindly supplied by Mr P. Durbridge.

Aldringham (TM/4760). Ne. Flaked flint axe, found in a garden several years ago. (F. B. Macrae; S. A. U. ARG 008).

Aldringham (TM/4759). Md. The disturbed remains of a skeleton, lying in an east-west grave, were found in a gas mains service trench at the end of the archway between the Thorpeness Almshouses. At least one other skeleton was intact beneath it and there may have been more. These are probably associated with the medieval St Mary’s Chapel, Thorpe, which formerly existed in that area. Local residents indicated that the cemetery was quite extensive in the gardens on either side of the driveway. (C. J. Balkwill, I. M.; S. A. U. ARG 004).

Barham (TN/1350). IA., RB., MS. Icenian silver coin (Mack 429) and silver coin of Cunobelinus (Mack 218). Scatter of Roman brooches and coins. Scatter of Anglo-Saxon sceattas, including one of King Beonna of East Anglia (fl. 758). obverse BENNA, reverse WILRED (now in the British Museum); a Quentovic tremissis and bronze items. (J. Short, T. Marsh and N. Scott; S. A. U. BRH 016, 018).

Beccles (TM/4389). Ne. Partly polished flint axe. (J. Lane per M. H.; S. A. U. BCC 007).

Bradfield St George (TL/9159). RB. Scatter of pottery, including samian, and tile (M. Baker; S.A.U. BSG 006).

Brandon (TL/7686). RB. Pottery, including samian, found in plough soil, also a worn sestertius. (D. Pocock; S.A.U. BRD 036).

Coddenham (TM/1152). IA., RB. Contemporary bronze forgery of a stater of ‘Norfolk Wolf’ type (Mack 49a); also coins of Cunobelinus and the Iceni. Roman coins (1st – 4th century), brooches and other metalwork. (J. Short; S.A.U. CDD 017).

Covehithe (TM/5181). Ne. Flint flaked axe, found on ploughland nine years ago. (Mr Stone per L.A.S.; S.A.U. COV 011).

Covehithe (TM/5281). BA. Thin-butted bronze flat axe, found at the foot of a cliff. (Fig. 22a). (C. Eickert per L.A.S.; S.A.U. COV 010).

Covehithe (TM/5281). BA. Thin-butted bronze flat axe. (Fig. 22b). (R. Phillips per L.A.S.; S.A.U. COV 009).

_Euston_ (TL/9378). Ne. Edge-polished 'discoidal' flint knife, found in a ploughed field. (Fig. 23a). (C. B. Drummond; M.H. 1980.185; S.A.U. EUN 008).

_Hacheston_ (TM/3158). Md. Human bones were reported, after ploughing, from a field called Chapel Pightle. Trial excavation of a small area revealed the remains of about five individuals at a depth of about 20—25cm. They had been buried extended on their backs, with their heads to the west. All of the skeletons had been damaged by ploughing and had been further disturbed by a recent pipe-trench. (R. Bowden-Smith and E. Martin; S.A.U. HCH 004).

_Icklingham_ (TL/7373). BA., IA. Decorated jet spacer bead (Fig. 23b), pottery, flint flakes, burnt daub and burnt flints found in rabbit workings. (J. King; M.M. 80.42 and 80.43; S.A.U. IKL 081).
